“The Amazing Sleeve Opener, Which Will Get Women Touching You Within Seconds ...”

When you arrive, make sure you have one sleeve undone and walk up to any woman you'd like to approach...

Dear Friend,

The sleeve opener is actually quite a simpler opener that is designed to get the conversation started and at the same time, get women touching you.

Step 1

All you need to do is be wearing a long sleeved dress shirt. I personally like clean white shirts but any color or design will do.

Step 2

Before you go out, be sure to leave one sleeve button undone, this is the basis of the opener. Once you get the hang of it, you might want to try having both sleeves undone. (Great for opening a 2 set!)

Step 3

That evening, anywhere you go, you can simply walk up to a girl and say:

"Hey, I'm meeting a friend in a second and I couldn't get this button (Point to unbuttoned sleeve), do you think you could ... ?"

Then just wait... and put your arm out so she can assist you with your button.

What you'll find is that it's not as hard as you think. Women instinctively want to help and will start helping you with the button. Within seconds, she'll be comfortable touching you, you'll have stood out from all the other guys who are trying to buy her attention AND you will be in a perfect position to start a conversation.

That's When You're In!

Then Follow Up With ...

Then say:

"Thanks, you're really friendly. Who are you with here tonight?"

From there, there are a million different ways to proceed. I just showed you how to start the conversation, but if you really want to build massive attraction and take it to the next level, then the next logical step is to sign up for the Absolute Attraction Coaching course when it's released June 29th 2010.
